Family of the Week – Jonathan & Althea

Dear CMF Family,
Our summer is full, full, full, and we are thankful. Some days are very heavy. Last Sunday was one of them, a day when it took terribly much effort to just maintain coherent thoughts. We are thankful for the opportunity to bear the darkness in some measure with the people here, and we are even more thankful that A LIGHT has already dawned for them.
Trace is making good steps toward breaking destructive habits in his life, and he has been overflowing with eagerness to keep seeking answers to his deepest heart questions. He takes an awful lot of our energy, but we are thankful that many can share the weight of his search. Betsam has been heavily involved in this conversation with him. Gabriel spent several hours in the studio hammering at the same topics. It is obvious that Trace will not be able to let the questions rest until he finds a Savior.
As we move through our final year in Tarr, we are more and more aware of all the things we find dear about living here. And yet, it's the very pain of looming departure that makes interactions with friends and neighbors so much sweeter. We don't want to waste a bit of it!
We are earnestly asking that God will provide a long-term national believing witness here in Tarr before we leave. Will this be Hanc and Betta? Betsam? Someone else? Or does He plan to let the "land lie fallow" for a while? We know we can trust Him to provide beyond our imaginations if we wait for Him.
Love, Althea, for the Bylers
